

Jingting Su

Registered Nurse | Community & Primary Care
GTA, Ontario | 548-888-5687 | jingting.su123@gmail.com

PRIMARY CARE HIGHLIGHTS

- Conduct comprehensive nursing assessments for clients with acute, chronic, post-acute, infusion, oncology, and palliative care needs across home and community settings.
- Develop individualized care plans and collaborate with physicians, Ontario Health atHome Care Coordinators, and interdisciplinary teams to optimize patient outcomes.
- Promote chronic disease self-management, health education, disease prevention, and access to community resources that support safe, independent living.

PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

Registered Nurse with over three years of Ontario community nursing experience providing comprehensive health assessments, chronic disease management, patient education, care navigation, and individualized care planning for medically complex, post-acute, oncology, infusion, and palliative populations. Experienced working independently and collaboratively with physicians, nurse practitioners, Ontario Health atHome Care Coordinators, and interdisciplinary teams to promote health, prevent disease, and improve continuity of care across community settings.

Recognized for strong clinical judgment, relationship building, and the ability to identify changing health needs, prioritize interventions, and connect patients with appropriate community services.

CORE QUALIFICATIONS

Comprehensive Health Assessment • Chronic Disease Management • Care Planning • Care Navigation • Patient & Family Education • Health Promotion • Disease Prevention • Community Resources • Clinical Procedures • Palliative Care • Interdisciplinary Collaboration • Electronic Documentation

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Community Registered Nurse (RN) | CarePartners | Apr 2023 – Present

- Conduct comprehensive nursing assessments and independently manage a caseload of approximately 30–40 active clients with acute, chronic disease, post-acute, infusion, oncology, and palliative care needs.
- Develop, implement, and evaluate individualized care plans in collaboration with patients, caregivers, physicians, Ontario Health atHome Care Coordinators, and interdisciplinary healthcare professionals.
- Promote chronic disease self-management, medication adherence, symptom monitoring, and healthy lifestyle practices through individualized patient and caregiver education.
- Respond to telephone inquiries regarding symptom progression, medication and supply concerns, equipment issues, and changing clinical conditions, collaborating with physicians to facilitate timely interventions when appropriate.
- Complete home visits to perform comprehensive nursing assessments, monitor clinical status, and adjust care plans based on changing patient needs.

- Provide nursing support for oncology clients including implanted port access/de-access procedures and assessment of treatment-related symptoms such as dehydration, weakness, and gastrointestinal complications.
- Facilitate referrals to physiotherapy, occupational therapy, respiratory therapy, hospice programs, community agencies, and other support services.
- Collaborate with hospitals, specialists, primary care providers, and community partners to address complex care needs and improve client outcomes.
- Maintain accurate electronic documentation and ensure continuity of care across providers and care settings.
- Precept and mentor newly hired nurses.

Registered Practical Nurse (Part-Time) | Yee Hong Centre for Geriatric Care | May 2024 – Feb 2025

- Provided nursing care for residents with complex chronic, geriatric, behavioural, and palliative care needs.
- Conducted assessments and monitored acute status changes in collaboration with interdisciplinary team members.
- Supported health promotion, chronic disease management, and individualized care planning for residents with complex geriatric needs.
- Communicated regularly with residents and family members regarding care needs and treatment plans.
- Delivered culturally responsive care to a predominantly Chinese-speaking resident population.

EDUCATION

Bachelor of Nursing — Shanghai University of Traditional Chinese Medicine
Registered Practical Nurse Diploma — Fanshawe College

LICENSURE & ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

- Registered Nurse (RN), College of Nurses of Ontario – Active, Good Standing
- Current CPR/BLS Certification
- Valid Ontario G Driver's Licence and Reliable Vehicle
- Languages: English and Mandarin